Long Beach, CA – August 16, 2011 - Windes & McClaughry Accountancy Corporation, a leading Southern California accounting and consulting firm with 85 years in business, is an award recipient of the Los Angeles Business Journal's “Best Places to Work in Los Angeles” for 2011.

The Los Angeles Business Journal's fifth annual “Best Places to Work in Los Angeles” competition identifies and recognizes Los Angeles County’s best employers. Windes & McClaughry participated in this competition by submitting information about the firm and by employee responses to a confidential online survey administered by Best Companies Group. Windes & McClaughry falls into the medium-sized category (50 to 250 employees), where a field of contestants was reduced to a smaller group of awardees based upon a review of all information submitted.

This is the fourth consecutive year that Windes has been recognized with this award. “This is quite an accomplishment for Windes & McClaughry and I am very pleased with our ranking of #16, which is quite an advancement from #28 the previous year,” says John Di Carlo, managing partner of Windes & McClaughry. “This recognition is the result of all of the individuals at the firm making it such a great place to work. We value people first and it shows throughout our organization.”
